

Monterey Institute for Technology and Education (MITE) is committed to providing Open Educational Resources (OER) to students and teachers worldwide. To achieve this important goal, we make NROC (National Repository of Online Courses) content available at no cost via public websites like HippoCampus.org. The content at these sites is provided for individuals only. Institutions (e.g., schools, agencies) can gain access to NROC content by becoming members of the NROC Network, a community of leading academic organizations. Membership fees from the NROC Network are used to support OER websites and provide access to quality educational content for everyone.

Be an advocate of the OER movement. Join the NROC Network.
